GIGANTIC SWINDLING.

A Grand Scheme of Kinsanity Discovered—Sixty Persons Arrested—The Hoarding of Thirteen Cent House.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., October 19.—A gigantic swindle was brought to light yesterday by the arrest of J. K. Ham, Edward L. Stevens and Geo. W. Miller, on a requisition of Governor Hubbard, of Texas, charged with forging land titles and issuing fraudulent deeds for large tracts of land in Texas. The scheme of the fraud was organized by Ham and another person named Thos. Tuttle, of Austin, Texas. Ham lives here, and through his persuasion Stevens and Miller were brought into the plot. Stevens, who is a lawyer, and Judge Stevens of this city is believed to have gone into the operation on account of first being persuaded, and with the expectation of getting four thousand acres of land from Ham, but subsequently becoming fascinated by the opportunities offered for making money rapidly, entered freely into the swindling conspiracy, and was called in Texas as a Kansas City lawyer. In order to better secure success in their plans Ham and his confederates caused to be made duplicate copies of notarial and other seals, and procured specimens of signatures of numerous State officials in Texas. They also caused to be printed blank forms, and exact copies of deeds necessary for their transactions. All titles and patents used by them and representing either the general government, the State, or the county, have been conveyed by them, under many different aliases, and to many different persons. About one year ago the attention of Gov. Hubbard was called to the matter, and on looking into it he was satisfied that a monstrous swindle had been perpetrated, involving interests of both the State of Texas, and United States. The authorities at Washington were notified of the facts as discovered, and special agent Foster was sent out to the State, where he obtained evidence to the authors of the swindle, which have been closely followed ever since, and resulting in the arrest of 60 persons simultaneously, in various parts of the country, who belong to the gang. No less than 13 court houses have been set on fire and burned during the past year, to destroy evidence that could have been brought against conspirators. Ham, Stevens and Miller left for Texas yesterday in custody of officers from that State.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

Excitement in France.
LONDON, October 19.—It is rumored that an assault on Plevna commenced Thursday. It is stated that material for Russian bullets, contracted for in England, are being contributed to the war. Cardinal Annibaldi (aged 66 years, died) aged 66 years. Steamer Kington, Hall, with 12 lives was lost by collision with an unknown vessel. A Paris dispatch says, "All who approach the official sphere exclaim—'They are mad.' They have lost their heads. They are dreaming of a state of siege, of a further extension of a dictatorship, of a plebiscite, of more energetically managed elections and of the so-called safety of the country at any price. McMillan will await the action of the Chamber if it shows an aggressive temper or disposition to thwart the cabinet, or force on him a dishonorable policy, consisting of the abandonment of his functions and the violation of his solemnly contracted pledges, he will dissolve it again, and in the unlikely event of the Senate refusing its assent to dissolution the Marshal will, necessarily, persist in dissolving the deputies, being guided only by the public interests. He considers the elections about which France demands the republic coupled with order, and believes that he alone can give both in conjunction. He thinks also that at the elections on Sunday the republic will not fully appreciate the interests at stake."

St. Petersburg, October 19.—The Golos publishes a special from Igdyr, dated October 17, which says: "On receiving the information of Mukhtar Pasha's defeat Ismail Pasha withdrew from the neighborhood of Igdyr to the Heights of Zor, near the frontier. It is believed he is on the point of completely evacuating our territory."

FROM WASHINGTON.

CONGRESS.

Senator Merrimon Introduces a Bill—Pension Agencies.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—In the Senate during the morning hour a number of bills were introduced; among them one by Mr. Merrimon, of North Carolina to amend an act relating to the offices of President and Vice President.

Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, submitted a resolution instructing the Committee on Pensions to inquire into and report by bill or otherwise, reducing and properly adjusting salaries and fees of Pension Agents.

An amendment was submitted by Mr. Ingalls directing the committee to inquire into the expediency of abolishing all pension agencies and having the pensions paid from Washington was agreed to and the resolution passed.

At the expiration of the morning hour the Senate resumed the consideration of the resolution submitted by Mr. Thurman yesterday, to discharge the Committee on Privileges and Elections from further consideration of the credentials of S. P. Eustis, a United States Senator for the term commencing March 4th, 1878, and Mr. Thurman spoke at length in favor of the claims of Mr. Eustis.

Availing Hayes.

NEW YORK, October 19.—The Tammany county Convention nominated Judge Brady who had already been nominated by the anti-Tammany and the republicans. A resolution was adopted, that President Hayes' order to office holders prohibiting the exercise by them of the right of citizenship was unconstitutional and oppressive, and if adhered to and forced should lead to his impeachment and removal from office.

Another Bank Suspended.

CHICAGO, October 19.—Home Savings Bank, at Elgin, suspended. Deposits aggregate $60,000; assets, $100,000.

Trial of Rioters.

READING, Pa., Oct. 19.—The jury in the cases of the Sunday night rioters of July last, on opening the court this morning returned a verdict of not guilty as to all the defendants except George Goodhart, who was found guilty of inciting to riot. The jury retired at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and came to an agreement at 6 o'clock this morning. The trial of Monday's rioters was postponed till Monday next at 10 o'clock.

The Georgia Marshals.
WASHINGTON, October 19.—Mr. Stephens has no doubt that a Democrat, or at least a gentleman who voted against Hayes, will eventually have the Georgia marshals. It is ill-naturedly intimated that the appointment is held in defiance, because it gratifies the President to have Stevens, Gordon and Hill to come to see him occasionally.

Factory Burned.
OWEGO, October 19.—The Owego Falls woolen mills, near Fulton, were partially burned last night, consisting of a large quantity of valuable machinery. A quantity of wool and finished clothes were also destroyed. The losses are $100,000, with full insurance.

NIGHT DISPATCHES.

Congressional Proceedings.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The comptroller decides that members of Congress are not entitled to mileage for extra sessions.

The Senate committee on privileges and elections met to-day, and unanimously decided to report on the Louisiana Senatorial questions without any unnecessary delay. It was ordered that Spofford and Kellogg be notified, that the committee will formally commence the examination of their credentials next Monday, and they will be invited to attend, and express their views as to the scope of investigation which they respectively desire. This motion was offered by Mr. Hoar, and was adopted unanimously. Mr. Henry has issued a call for the meeting of the National Academy of Sciences at Columbia College Tuesday next.

The President with Exerts.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The President and Key will attend the State Fair, at Richmond, Va., on the 30th and 31st of October.

SENATE.—After a long debate Mr. Thompson withdrew his motion to discharge the committee on privileges and elections to further consideration of credentials of Mr. Eustis, of La. He disclaimed any intention of reflecting upon the committee on privileges and elections, but his motion to have that committee discharged from the further consideration of Mr. Eustis' credentials. Several senators had requested him not to press this matter to a vote to-day, besides it had been suggested by one or two members of the committee on privileges and elections that a report of the case would be made at an early day, in view of all that had been said he withdrew his motion to discharge. The committee adjourned until Monday.

Liverpool Cotton Brokers' Circular.

LIVERPOOL, October 19.—The cotton brokers' circular says: Cotton has been moderate demand throughout the week. Quotations of most descriptions have slightly declined. American is in less demand, and prices are partially easier. In Sea Island a small business has been done, prices are steady. In future bales there has been very little action of the market, but at about 3.32d. decline from last Thursday's prices.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON.—The President has appointed Col. O. P. Fitzsimmons, of Augusta, Ga., marshal for the State, vice Maj. S. J. Lee. The Star says Senator Isham G. Harris, of Tennessee, is making a vigorous fight to have the President withhold the nomination of Judge Baxter of Tennessee for the fifth Judicial Circuit court, and has submitted along series of objections to the appointments of the President.

Spiritualism Exposed.

A FEW QUESTIONS FROM AN INDIGNANT SPIRITUALIST FOR PROF. COOKE TO ANSWER.
See that a person, styling himself Prof. Cooke, is to appear at Tucker's Hall Monday evening, heralded by flaming posters and boastful challenges that he will expose spiritualism by the aid of the friends of the true philosophy of spiritualism. I ask the gentleman to respond to the following propositions:

First. Will he expose the materialization of Mrs. Holmes, the Eddy Brothers, and other reputable mediums? Will Miss Cooke and Miss Crawford, his associates, be placed under test conditions by a committee selected from the audience?

Second. Will he allow himself to be secured with ropes and handcuffs which I will furnish?

Third. Will he produce the slate-writing and clairvoyant tests in full light in the presence of the audience?

Inasmuch as he makes such bold announcements and challenges, he can rest assured that there will be parties present to accept the same, and prove him a medium or base impostor.

A TRUE SPIRITUALIST.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

Our Delegation in Congress—The New Member—Division of Labor—Wheeler and Winstead—Doorkeeper of the House.

[Special correspondence of the News.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 18, 1877. There has been but little of anything done in Congress, only in the way of seating the contested seats from Colorado, South Carolina and Louisiana. Speaker Randall will have his committees arranged by Monday night. It is understood that North Carolina will have three chairmanships, whose delegation were solid for Randall in the Nineteenth. The members of the Forty-fifth Congress from the Old North State are more than an average delegation, both in personal appearance and mental capacity. They are calm, thoughtful and cautious in all matters of interest to the country. Col. Steel, the new member, has made a most favorable impression upon those who know the pleasure of forming his acquaintance. We are disposed to think, from the deep interest they are taking in the movements that are going on at this early day in the House, that they will be heard at the proper time. Mr. Waddell will introduce a bill to abolish the United States District Court at Newbern North Carolina. Scales and Robbins will be the champion and workers of a bill to reduce the tax on tobacco.

Yates will look after the Dismal Swamp Canal, and push every point on that measure which will in any way be a benefit to the State. Gen. Vance will look closely after the Indian and land interest of western North Carolina. Mr. Davis will feel a deep interest in the tobacco tax and work with Scales and Robbins, as there are large numbers of factories in his district. Col. Steel is much interested with Col. Waddell in the improvements of harbor and river navigation. Brogden will give more than a New to save a portion of his salary, and debating his chances as to his return to the 40th Congress.

Senators Ransom and Merrimon, are both in their seats, really in discussion. A motion was made that Congress pass the following resolutions: "Whereas, True religion and good morals are the only foundations of public liberty and happiness; and "Resolved, That it be and is hereby earnestly recommended to the several States to take the most effectual measures to the encouragement thereof, for the suppressing theatrical entertainments, horse-racing, gaming, and other diversions as are productive of idleness, dissipation, and a general depravity of principles and manners."

"Resolved, That all officers in the army of the United States be and hereinafter be required by the Secretary of War to see that good order and discipline be maintained, and the preservation of morals among the soldiers be duly and punctually observed."

On the question to agree to the first resolution, with the preamble, the yeas and nays were called for, and the yeas were 117, and the nays 107. There were only eleven States present by their delegates; eight voted yeas, including Maryland, Virginia and the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia was divided and North Carolina voted no. There was no vote on the second resolution, as the yeas and nays were not counted, as it required two delegates to cast the vote of the State.

On agreeing to the second resolution in the affirmative, the vote being nearly the same as on the first resolution; the difference being that Delaware and New York, which were not present, voted yeas, and the former voting yeas and the latter divided; and that the delegate from Maryland voted this time in the affirmative.

A motion was made to reconsider the vote on the first resolution, but it passed in the negative by nine yeas to two yeas. New York and North Carolina voted for reconsideration, and Virginia was divided. Four days later the following proceedings took place: Oct. 16, 1877. quite small enough for its duties, and quite small enough for the contingency which would make it desirable for us to maintain a respectable standing army as a nucleus of military organization, even if we had no chance of trouble on either border and no Indians to keep in order. Nothing can be sillier than for a civilian to fix offhand and arbitrary limits to the numbers of the army and declare that it shall not be exceeded. General McClellan, whose opinions on this subject are entitled to particular respect, and who is probably as impartial as any experienced soldier who knows what work is required of the army can be expected to be, holds that our present army ought to be about doubled, in the interests of true economy as well as of its own efficiency. In the present condition of the country there is no reason to suppose that an increase. The army will probably be left where it was before the disagreement of last session.

Curious Proceedings of the Continental Congress.

[Washington Critic.]
Few people of the present day are aware of the curious proceedings which were prevalent during the Revolution and that they gave tone to the proceedings of the Continental Congress. The work of the Continental Congress was not a mere amusement, will be thought very curious; and if they had emanated from any less august body than the Revolutionary Congress, they would be regarded as a great advantage over the laws of the present day. It will be seen that they had Southern as well Northern supporters:

The Ohio Election.

The result of the election in Ohio is no surprise to us, nor do we think it is to the Republicans themselves. Last November with the party united, and backed by the whole power of Grant's Administration, with the whole power of the Republican party filled as it was with assessments drawn from 100,000 government employees, and with the Presidential election hanging on the result of that State, Hayes was able to carry Ohio by a very small majority. This year the party is rent in twain. Ben Wade leads the Radical wing in Ohio with a virulence and venom not inferior to that of Conkling in New York. The Republican rivals of Stanley Matthews have waged an unceasing warfare against him and the policy of the Administration, and are well satisfied to have a Republican defeat in Ohio as a prelude upon which to charge dissension to that policy as the cause of the defeat.

In addition the Greenback party and the Workingmen's party have made more largely from a Republican than from the Democratic ranks. But above all the result in Ohio is the verdict of the people of that State on the work of the Electoral Commission. It is their stamp of disapprobation of the ways and means by which a Republican President was foisted on the American people, and their declaration that henceforth they will not co-operate with a party that when fairly defeated at the polls, fraudulently sets aside the people's choice.

About two hundred and fifty Boston mechanics talk of leaving in November for Texas. Eighty-two of them had agreed to join a colony to settle there and take two hundred acres of land each. They propose to start this fall.

Natchez Democrat: We hear many planters saying that by the middle of this month, or the last of it at most, all the cotton will be gathered, and they generally agree that the storm of the crop will be hereabout, from thirty to thirty-five per cent, less than a full crop.

Patterson is sometimes logical if not always honest. He says that if Wade Hamilton is the proper man to represent the State in the Senate, Patterson being right once in his life, we record it for the sake of reference.

New Orleans Picayune: The Lee Memorial Association will soon hold a meeting for the purpose of selecting a plan for the proposed monument to be erected in Tivoli Circle. Nearly a score of plans have been submitted, so that it will be no easy matter to make a selection. The amount of funds on hand is $15,000, but it is thought that it will require but a short time to raise the further sum of $15,000 required.

STATE NEWS.

They have had heavy frosts in some parts of Moore county.

The Wilkesboro Witness didn't give in but half its testimony this week.

Wilkesboro Witness: Mr. Elijah Blair, of this county, has a milk cow that gives seven gallons of milk each day. Can any one beat that?

Says the Newbern Watchdog of the 18th: New corn sold in our market yesterday at 60 cents, and old corn brought 75 cents. These were cargo sales.

Twenty-four prisoners—all colored but two—in jail now, says the Wilkesboro Herald, in testimony of their on Magistrate's commitments for trial at approaching court.

Day before yesterday, says the Charlotte Observer of the 18th, the Traders' National Bank of this city shipped about eleven hundred dollars' worth of bullion to the mint at Philadelphia.

Tarboro Southern: The eighth annual fair of the Roanoke and Tar River Agricultural Society comes off at Wednesday on the 23d, 24th, 25th and 26th of October. A train will leave Rocky Mount every morning, returning in the evening. On Thursday it will come from Wilson.

Fayetteville Gazette: Mr. J. W. Pearce drove down to the Baptist church last Tuesday night and while in the church some malicious, cowardly scoundrel cut his harness all to pieces. As he had ladies with him, he was put to great trouble and inconvenience, being obliged to go to the lively stable for assistance.

Tarboro Southern: Mack Harland, a colored man, ginning cotton for Col. W. E. Knight, had his right arm caught in the saws of the gin, run by steam, and fearfully mutilated and mangled up to his shoulder. This occurred yesterday morning. On Tuesday, Ralph Battle, a colored boy, had his hand seriously hurt in the same way at the same place.

New State: We learn this morning, by a postal card from Jacksonville, that a kerosene lamp exploded last night at the residence of Mr. Frank Holton, near that place. Miss Annie, the daughter of Mr. Holton, was badly burned, and Mr. Holton himself received injury to his hands. It is supposed, in his endeavors to rescue his daughter, Mr. S. is superintending the Oakdale Mills.

Wadesboro Herald: the jailor, Mr. Thredgill, on Monday, accidentally discovered a hole in the floor of the room in which several negro prisoners are confined, and one of them, Martin (Liles), told him that another prisoner, Clark Lindsey, had a large knife with which the hole was made. The knife was found on his person—whereupon he "bounced" Martin for a fight, and soon received a respectable thrashing. But for this discovery there would probably soon have been a nearly empty jail.

Charlotte Observer, Oct. 18: Yesterday morning, a little negro boy, one of those who hang around depots and jump on and off the trains, was crushed to death between two freight cars at Statesville. The depot hands were engaged in moving some cars standing on the side track, and the boy had probably gotten on the bumper for a ride, when it was pushed against another car, catching him about the middle of the body. At any rate, when they found him, he was fastened between the bumper and almost lifeless. He died very shortly after he was extricated.

Wadesboro Herald: the large and costly dwelling of Walter F. Leak, Esq., in Rockingham, was burned on Saturday morning last, with a portion of its valuable contents. A safe containing papers, &c., of value was saved, and a portion of the furniture. There was an insurance on the building for $8,000, which will probably cover more than half the loss. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Leak, who no sum of money could compensate for the loss of many cherished articles, with the home in which he has lived through a long, useful and honorable life. Major Seales, his son-in-law and family, residing with him, and share in the calamity. The fire originated from a stove in cook room.

NORTH CAROLINA IN CONGRESS.

We have expressed the hope that North Carolina would make herself felt in this Congress. We know she can do it if she will. Her delegation has the ability, patriotism and influence necessary to give them weight in shaping legislation. All that is necessary to accomplish the end aimed at is union of effort. Success generally lies in the direction of intelligent co-operation. We hope to see our Senators and Representatives, then uniting in the purpose, among other things, of abolishing the Western District of North Carolina; reducing the tax on tobacco and whiskey; and increasing our mail facilities. There are of course other highly important measures which might be pressed through, such as a modification of the internal revenue system, Federal aid for the State militia, &c.; but the three measures above indicated are most pressing.

It is hardly practicable for any Southern State to arm, equip and sustain a State Guard of sufficient strength for the security of the State in emergencies, without assistance from the general government. Congress instead of expending millions of dollars in maintaining a standing army ought to build up the volunteer organizations of the States. These they have only to arm and equip; not feed and clothe, which is the big item of the War Department's expenses. The garrison which until the recent strikes was kept here cost the government, we are told, about sixty thousand dollars a year. The garrison consisted of only a company or two. Now, that sum of money, applied annually to the organization, arming, equipment, and discipline of the North Carolina State Guard, would sustain five thousand men, composed of the best material, and capable both of furnishing all the physical force necessary for the enforcement of laws in times of disorder and ready to serve in the National defense when called on by the President.

The present annual appropriation of two hundred thousand dollars for the whole militia of the United States, under act of 1868, should be increased to at least two millions, annually; so that North Carolina would get as her annual quota fifty thousand dollars, instead of five thousand, as at present; and in place of the three battalions now organized we might have three brigades; and would, on occasion, do as good service as the regular army, and yet in peace cost the Government nothing for feeding and clothing. The matter is certainly worthy the immediate attention of Congress.

As to the abolition of the Western District of North Carolina, we are clearly in favor of doing away with it if this be necessary to get rid of Douglass and his deputies. If the general government hasn't the sense of justice and right to put good and capable men in office, it is better to tear down the court, and have but one district in the State, as before. The Western District was we are disposed to think, created by Grant in order to give some of his Southern Republican pals more offices and more chances for plunder. If that be the reason of its formation, the court should be knocked into a cocked hat. But apart from this, it is an unmitigated nuisance as at present managed, and should be abolished. Mr. Wade's bill to abolish the District, we hope may be pressed through, unless, in the meantime, Judge Dick, Marshal Douglass and all his deputies, shall have been removed, and better men put in their places.

The tax on whiskey and tobacco, is too high. It ought to be cut down to a figure within the bounds of reason and fairness. We are glad to see from our Washington correspondence that Gen. Seales, Mr. Robbins and Mr. Davis, especially, will put their shoulders to the wheel and do something towards the accomplishment of this end.

It is gratifying to note that North Carolina will be heard in Congress; and that legislation beneficial to our own will, in all probability, be enacted during the extra and the coming regular sessions of Congress.

We find the following in the New York Tribune: Flowers and compliments flew about the Senate the other day. Senator Ransom received a bouquet, to which was attached this enthusiastic exclamation:

"Soldier brave, bearing the marks of a bygone race—
Noble in form, fair and honest in face."

GOVERNOR HAMPTON said some things in his speech here that should be remembered. He said: "There were no better soldiers in the late war than the soldiers of North Carolina. I always placed them where danger was the thickest, for I knew I could trust the old tarheel." The "magnificent Virginians" must read this. General John B. Hood once made a similar remark, only "a little more so." The bloody shirt men of the North should ponder over these words: "We can do honor to the memory of the brave men who fought for us, and yet never violate the Constitution of the United States." Here is news for bourbons: "We can say that this is now our country, and we are citizens of that country. To have all our resources, &c., developed we must have peace. * * * Peace is essential in any portion of this country." And the following advice should be heeded by every Southern man: "I do not hesitate to say to you, men of the South, that by strict attention to your farming pursuits that you will at no distant exercise a controlling influence in the affairs of the nation."

DRUGS.

As Open Letter to the Public.

New York, October 1, 1877.

I have devoted twenty years of patient study to the Liver and its relations to the human body, in search of a remedy which would restore it, when diseased, to its normal condition. The result of that labor has been the production of

TUTT'S LIVER PILLS.

Their popularity has become so extended and the demand so great as to induce unscrupulous parties to counterfeit them, thereby depriving me of the reward, and the afflicted of their virtues.

To caution the Public and protect them from vile imitations, I have adopted a new label, which bears my trade-mark and notice of its entry in the Office of the Librarian of Congress, also my signature, thus:

W. H. TUTT, N. C.

To COUNTERFEIT THIS IS FORGERY.

Before purchasing, examine the label closely.

THE GENUINE TUTT'S PILLS

exert a peculiar influence on the system. Their action is prompt, and their good effects are felt in a few hours. A quarter of a cent will purchase a box of the pills, which is a small price for a remedy of such value, and when diseased the entire organism is deranged. It is specially for the healing of this vital organ that I have spent so many years, toil, and having found the remedy, which has proved the greatest boon ever furnished the afflicted. Shall they be deprived of its benefits, and a vile imitation imposed upon them?

Let the honest people of America see to it that they are not defrauded. Scrutinize the label closely, so that it bears all the marks above mentioned, and buy the medicine only from respectable dealers. It can be found everywhere.

Very respectfully,
W. H. TUTT.

Theodore has been discovered visiting Mrs. Tilton, and in a few brief weeks we expect to record a reconciliation, in which there was a sound of ym ym, as these two long suffering individuals threw themselves into each other's arms.

It is a base libel to say that the heathen Chinese is not capable of civilization. The other day one of them went to a barber, had his hair curled, and in less than fifteen minutes after was trying to pass himself off as an old apple woman as Roscoe Conkling.

A young Swede, whom his hearers regarded as a rival of Mr. Moody in evangelical work, has been conducting a series of successful revival meetings in Minnesota. He is said to be a speaker much like Mr. Moody—simple, earnest and eloquent, of fine personal appearance, and is also a good singer.

It is attested by the military officers who were in the Nez Perce campaign that the warriors of Joseph never scalped a white man, nor treated a wounded soldier or citizen during the war. There's a little streak of civilization, but does it strengthen the poor excuse we have for going to war at all?

The faculty of Rutgers' College last week suspended four of the members of the class of '79 for skylarking. The class held a meeting and to-day refused to enter the recitation room until their suspended members were reinstated. The faculty state if the class refuse to enter to-morrow all its members will be suspended. The class say they are determined not to yield.

During the civil war a number of English ladies of noble birth made a Confederate flag, richly embroidered, of silk and satin, intending to give it to Admiral Semmes. XANTHINE!
"I have tried the Xanthine, and found it to be all that is claimed in securing hair to its natural color and removing dandruff."
(From Rev. W. W. Barnett, D. D., Sec. Ed. of the Richmond Christian Advocate.)
Most Creek, Tenn., August 22, 1876.
I have used the Xanthine now for three years, and have been induced to try it by the many who have known it to be an excellent tonic and pleasant dressing, removing and preventing dandruff and all unpleasant itching, promoting and preserving the natural growth and color of the hair, and rendering it glossy and healthy. I can truly and cheerfully recommend it. WILLIAM CAMEDEY.
